Economic Insights

Feb 04, 2026

Five things that could derail the ECB

At its meeting this week, the ECB is set to stay stable in turbulent times.

→ READ MORE

Feb 04, 2026

Team Italy: An economic performance worthy of a gold medal?

Italy approaches the Olympic Winter Games Milano Cortina 2026 with a notably stronger macroeconomic backdrop, underpinned by post-pandemic resilience in output, employment and trade, and an improved fiscal stance.

→ READ MORE

Feb 02, 2026

A new decade high for major insolvencies driven by services, retail and construction

Business insolvencies ended 2025 with an upside trend in most countries, despite already high levels.

→ READ MORE

This website uses cookies.

By clicking "OK" or closing this banner, you agree to the storing of cookies on your device to enhance site navigation, analyze site usage, and assist in our marketing efforts. Privacy Policy

COOKIES SETTINGS

REJECT ALL

market opportunities and liquidity risks

The major sell-off on the long end of the Japanese sovereign yield curve is not a “Truss moment” but signals a bumpy final stage of Japan’s monetary normalization.

→ READ MORE

fragmented world: Navigating Collection Complexity

Recovering commercial debt could become even more of a challenge as business insolvencies remain high in most countries while global fragmentation rises amid a reconfiguration of the trading system, volatile protectionism, geopolitical uncertainties and higher digital risk.

→ READ MORE

export gains in a fragmented world

After signing the EU–Mercosur agreement on 17 January, the EU is looking to speed up its trade policy momentum to diversify trade structures in a more fragmented global economy.

→ READ MORE

Jan 23, 2026

Eyes back on the Fed (and on interventionist financial policies)

We continue to expect only one rate cut (-25bps to 3.50%) from the Fed this year. This cut is now expected in June instead of March, which confirms a normalization of monetary policy to neutral settings. A May surprise (-50bps)

Jan 20, 2026

The heat is on: Unlocking Germany’s heat-pump potential

Germany’s path to net-zero runs through its homes and buildings.

→ READ MORE

Jan 16, 2026

Geopolitics heats up from Venezuela, to Greenland to Iran, but investors shrug. For how long?

2026 started off on a strong footing with geopolitics taking on center stage, again.

→ READ MORE

This website uses cookies.

By clicking "OK" or closing this banner, you agree to the storing of cookies on your device to enhance site navigation, analyze site usage, and assist in our marketing efforts. Privacy Policy